To: Rice Research and Industry Colleagues

RE: ANNUAL CALIFORNIA RICE FIELD DAY

The annual Rice Field Day will be Wednesday, August 30th, 2023, at the Rice Experiment Station (RES), Biggs, California. We cordially invite you and your associates to join us for this event. The purpose of the Rice Field Day is to give rice growers and others an opportunity to observe and discuss research in progress at RES. Rice Field Day is sponsored by the California Cooperative Rice Research Foundation (CCRRF) and University of California (UC). We also seek and receive support from many agricultural businesses and are planning a rice equipment vendor display. Following is a brief outline of the Rice Field Day program. We will update the program on our web page at www.crrf.org.
